Ohio Legislature Passes Measure To Ban Billboards

Bill Approved After Several Hours of Debate

Legislature Okays
Many Appointments
Before Adjournment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sixteen Ohio Senate Republicans and six Democrats Friday night approved a law banning billboards on new sections of the interstate highway system. The House accepted Senate amendments 88-13. That finished the job.

Six Democrats and three Republicans opposed the controversial measure as a high-pressure special session of the Legislature ground to a halt after being in session off and on for about 35 hours in a period of 58 hours since it convened.

The billboard ban was adopted despite warnings of constitutional complications and several hours of eloquence to the contrary not withstanding.

Curbsome summary of the political effects of the special session: No one gained much, no one lost much.

Just before adjournment, the Senate confirmed a batch of Gov. C. William O'Neill's appointments.

They included Herman H. David of Cleveland Heights as a Democratic member of the State Board of Liquor Control. He was confirmed 19-0 after Democrats questioned whether he actually is a member of their party. He was an O'Neill supporter in 1956.

Also confirmed on the third time his reappointment was submitted

School Board Sets Meeting On Road Plans

The Salem Board of Education will meet Monday with Harold B. Husted, consultant engineer of Youngstown, to study the preliminary design and cost plans of the roadway off N. Lincoln Ave. into the new Senior High School.

Mr. Husted has been working since the latter part of May on profile plans for the 1,000 feet of road leading up to the gymnasium entrance on the north side of the school. The engineer indicated at the May 26 meeting with the board that a complete road would cost about $50,000.

In order to reduce this cost, board members may decide to build a road over a period of time by using layers of chip and asphalt. Present plans call for a double-lane road, each lane 16-feet wide, with an 8-foot divider strip, and a five-foot sidewalk running along the south side.

The sidewalks leading from the main entrance of the school out to the E. 6th St. Extension are nearing completion.

The two acres of lawn on the east side of the school building have been graded and seeded. Grading on the south side of the building is in progress.

On the E. 6th St. Extension, the grade has been set for the sidewalks, and approximately 75 percent of the curbing has been laid. This work is being done by the Columbiana Excavating Co.

FOX CHECKS PAPERS — John Fox thumbs through a pile of papers as he stands at the witness table Friday in the House Legislative Oversight Subcommittee hearing room in Washington. Fox, stormy Boston financial figure whose testimony brought furious denials from Sherman Adams and Bernard Goldfine, went into a new matter in Friday's testimony. He testified he got a $500,000 loan from Joseph P. Kennedy after supporting Kennedy's son, John, in his successful 1952 senate race.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich.) said today he will insist that House investigators get all of Bernard Goldfine's records to find the truth amid conflicting statements in the Sherman Adams controversy.

"That's the one way we can corroborate all these things," said Bennett after hearing fresh testimony from Boston businessman John Fox about relationships between Goldfine, millionaire Boston industrialist, and Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide.

Fox's new testimony under oath drew more denials.

Bennett, a member of the subcommittee checking relations between Goldfine and Adams, spoke in an interview at the House

Ike Foreign Aid Program Meets Dem Resistance

President Distressed
Over House Group's
Slash in Money Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's appeal for restoration of foreign aid funds taken away by a House committee met stiff Democratic resistance today. Eisenhower said Friday he was deeply distressed by the House Appropriations Committee's reduction of 872 million dollars from his requested $3,950,000,000 for economics and military aid to friendly nations in the fiscal year starting next Tuesday.

Fears Serious Losses

If the deep cut is allowed to stand, Eisenhower said, "I fear there will be important losses for the free world and a serious decreasing of the security of the United States."

The House will vote next week on the $3,078,000,000 money bill totaling 357 million less than is being spent on overseas assistance in the current fiscal year. It is 597 million dollars less than the $3,675,000,000 ceiling fixed in authorization legislation finally passed by both houses Friday and sent to the President.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, acting Senate Democratic leader, said he thinks the committee's 872 million dollar reduction is justified "but it was made in the wrong places."

Death Claims Little Girl, Dog Within Hours

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A dying little girl called from her hospital bed for her companion of gayer days, a terrier named Trixy.

Her only toy was a cigarette lighter that a week ago ignited some scrap paper and left her critically burned.

Her only thoughts were of Trixy. Eller Tuten, a 9-year-old cerebral palsy victim, and Trixy were inseparable in life.

Death claimed both within hours.

"The dog was her only companion," said Eller's uncle, William Tuten. "They were always together." He gave Eller the pup.

Eller's parents were divorced. Since birth she had lived with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Glover Mathis.

"Both my wife and I went to see her regularly," the father said. "She was in good hands. It was just a terrible accident."

He said that Eller went to school like healthy children.

"She only had an occasional attack, but no paralysis."

A week ago, the grandparents returned home and found the child on her hands and knees in the living room, her dress blazing. She was able to tell them she had set fire to some paper with the lighter.

Doctors said her body was 70 per cent covered with burns. While she was hospitalized some neighbors took in Trixy.

At 12:15 a. m. Friday, Eller died. Her last words were a call for Trixy.

Eight hours later, Trixy dashed under a car's wheels.

Her uncle William buried Trixy behind the grandparents' home. A small monument, he said, is planned.

Sea Lion Is Center Of Zoos' Wrangle

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—It might perk up the lagging appetite of Cyril, the year-old sea lion, if someone told him today the headlines he's earned in his vagabonding of the last week have made him famous.

And being famous is synonymous with being valuable in the show business — whether it's in the Toledo Zoo, where he's now housed in a bear cage and where the admission charge is 50 cents, or back in Springbank Park at London, Ont., where he escaped the night of June 19 and where the customers pay a quarter.

If Cyril knew how officials of each zoo pressed claim of ownership to him Friday, arguing to a stand-off, he might not even feel so miserable about the welts on his hide. These blemishes are apparently after-effects of tranquilizer drugs Toledo Zoo men fired into him with a dart gun Friday to make his capture easy.

The London Public Utilities Commission, which operates the zoo there, sent two of its members here for a conference late Friday with Director Phil Skeldon of the Toledo Zoo. Asst. Chairman Earl Nichols, accompanied by his 10-year-old daughter, Mary Sue, and Commissioner Stewart Killingsworth returned home Friday night with their mission unaccomplished.

"Personally, I feel he now belongs to the Toledo Zoo," said Skeldon, who has spent most of this week playing hide-and-seek with Cyril at the western end of Lake Erie.

Cyril arrived in London June 17 from California where sea lions — a large type of seal with ears — are so plentiful in the Pacific they cause no excitement at all. They're not famous, either, and can be bought, as Cyril was, for

Donors Needed For Bloodmobile Visit

Prospective blood donors are urged to call Mrs. Wykoff at her home, ED-24867.

The hours of the Bloodmobile visitation at the First Methodist Church have been re-scheduled for 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., rather than closing at 4 so that more latecomers can be accommodated.

150 To Attend Meeting Of Development Group

About 150 persons are expected to attend a special emergency meeting of the steering committee of the Salem Area Development Council Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Memorial Building.

Atty. Walter Hunston, president of the council said he called the meeting at the request of the board of directors to discuss the "problem of concern for existing and new industry for the area."

Hunston said, "The members of the board of directors have given a great many hours of their time to put a solid foundation under the Area Development Council. We feel that immediate, dramatic, and constructive action is now called for to boost progress and morale of the people in this area."

Urging the members to attend the Wednesday meeting, Hunston said, "we are enthused, anxious and ready to go ahead. We want the intelligent help and guidance of all Salem area people as we proceed."

Based upon accurate surveys, Hunston said, 100 factory workers mean this to a community:

8 States to Get U.S. Allocations For Jobless Pay

Total of $37.3 Million
Has Been Certified
To Extend Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government announced today the first allocation of federal loans under the new emergency program for added unemployment payments to jobless workers whose benefits have expired.

The Labor Department said allocations totaling $37,398,848 have been certified for payment to eight states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. They are signed up under the voluntary program to finance a 50 per cent extension of state jobless pay programs. In most states payment of unemployment benefits is limited to a maximum of 26 weeks.

The announcement of the allocation came on the heels of a report that unemployment among workers insured for jobless pay dropped to a new 1958 low during the week ended June 14.

The Labor Department's Employment Security Bureau said Friday the number of insured workers out of jobs declined by 113,000 to a total of 2,704,600.

The drop, attributed chiefly to a continued seasonal upswing in outdoor work, represented the ninth successive weekly decline.

However, part of the decrease

Brush-Moore Buys Paper In Hanover, Pa.

The Evening Sun at Hanover, Pa., today joined the Ohio and Maryland group of newspapers owned by Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc.

Control of the Pennsylvania paper passed to Brush-Moore through a wholly-owned subsidiary, Penn-Mar Publishing Co., by purchase of majority shares from L. B. Sheppard, his three daughters and brother and from five business and editorial executives of the Evening Sun.

Transfer of the remaining shares held by two minority stockholders will take place at a later date.

The new company will succeed The Evening Sun Co. in corporate conduct of the newspaper properly.

The Evening Sun, published daily except Sunday, becomes the ninth paper in the Brush-Moore group and the first to be acquired since 1937, when the Salisbury Times at Salisbury, Md., was purchased.

Brush-Moore's Ohio papers are the Canton Repository, Salem News, East Liverpool Review, Steubenville Herald-Star, Marion Star, Portsmouth Times and Iron-ton Tribune. The company also operates radio station WHBC in Canton.

Hanover is a shoe-manufacturing, horse-breeding community of 18,000, located in the rich, rolling hills of southern Pennsylvania near the Maryland border, 18 miles southwest of York and 14 miles east of Gettysburg.

The Sun's area of service is York and Adams counties in Pennsylvania and Carroll County in upper Maryland. Subscribers in Hanover, Westminster, Md., 40 additional towns and the rural routes give the paper a circulation of more than 25,000.

Mr. Sheppard, who has long served the publishing company as its president, is president of the Hanover Shoe Co. (manufacturers and retailers) and of the 2,000-acre Hanover Farms, world's largest horse-breeding establishment, which specializes in pacers and trotters. He also heads the United States Trotting Assn., which he helped organize in 1938.

The Sun's editors and business executives will remain in their administrative posts with the newspaper. No changes in the Sun's editorial, business or mechanical departments are anticipated.

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—Top-level investigating teams from the Air Force, the Civil Aeronautics Administration and the aviation industry today sifted the wreckage of a huge jet Stratotanker to determine what caused a crash that took the lives of 15 men.

The big tanker, one of four KC135s scheduled to streak to England to break transatlantic round trip records early Friday, crashed and exploded seconds after takeoff. Two similar planes that took off before her broke the west to east record. A fourth, poised on the runway, did not take off because of the tragedy.

The plane snapped high tension wires 70 feet above the ground and plummeted to earth in the after-midnight darkness. Its cargo of highly volatile fuel—estimated the equivalent of three-and-a-half railroad tank cars—exploded into an inferno.

Lebanon Troops Are Braced For New Attacks

Rebels Infiltrated
Close to Government
Positions in Night

BEIRUT (AP)—A battle raged for more than 12 hours overnight in Tripoli between government and rebel forces, insurgent sources reported today.

Eight persons were killed and about 20 wounded—many of them bystanders caught by stray bullets—the reports from the northern port city said.

Maan Karami, brother of the northern rebel leader, Raschid Karami, said that it had been the most violent night for Tripoli since the Lebanese crisis began 50 days ago.

Lebanese security forces were braced for new onslaughts after stopping four rebel attacks Friday in the gravest challenge so far to President Camille Chamoun's pro-Western government.

The battle in Tripoli began at 10 p.m. Friday night when armed men infiltrated close to security forces positions, Karami said.

The shooting began to subside this morning, but at noon the thunder of artillery still could be heard in the hills surrounding Tripoli.

Girls' Staters Conduct Trial For 'Slayer'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A murder trial went before the common pleas courts in Gray and Brown counties today as Buckeye Girls' State moved into its eighth day. It ends Sunday.

While the courts of the mythical counties in the mythical 49th state were handling the trial, the General Assembly neared adjournment.

This afternoon, the 806 girls at the government workshop will leave Capital University, the site of the session, and have tea with Mrs. C. William O'Neill at the governor's mansion.

Tonight, the girl politicians will hold their annual awards dinner. Winners of various contests being held during the eight-day affair will be announced as well as the two representatives elected Friday to attend Girls' Nation. The national version of Girls' State will be held July 26-Aug. 1 at American University in Washington, D. C.

Speaker at the banquet tonight will be Dr. Nicholas Nayaradi, director of international studies at Bradley University, Peoria, Ill. Dr. Nayaradi is the former Hungarian finance director. He fled the country when the communists took control.

Friday, bills, budgets and appointments went through the Legislature. All was harmony between the two houses except on a bill which would force all secondary schools to have driver education courses. The House approved the bill, but the Senate rejected it.

Other bills passed provide for annual motor vehicle inspection, an inspection of all private rest homes three times a year, state marking and inspection of all commercial bottle gas, and sale of paragon only with a physician's prescription.

Both houses approved a $2,155,771 budget asked by Gov. Sandra Gordon of Canton and also confirmed the governor's appointments. The appointments include:

Director of public works, Carolyn Kurtzman of Warren; assistant to director of highways, Judy English of Lima; assistant director of mental hygiene and correction, Paula Hartley of Portsmouth; director of industrial relations, Nancy Cranmer of Zanesville, and director of public welfare, Freda Fisher of Canton.

The Law Is the Law

It is unlikely the case of Dr. P. Scott Whiteleather vs. the U.S. Department of Agriculture will go ringing down through the decades as a key precedent in jurisprudence. But the issue on which the Minerva physician's difference of opinion with USDA reached Federal Court should go ringing down as some kind of a precedent.

In the ruling by Federal Judge Paul Jones of Cleveland, the issue was whether the USDA agents gave proper notice to the doctor they were going to show up at such and such a time to measure his wheat acreage. Having satisfied himself that proper notice was given, Judge Jones ruled against the defendant Whiteleather — and that was that.

Moreover, the defendant Whiteleather thereupon acknowledged what was what, said he would let the agents measure his wheat acreage and hereafter confine his opposition to what he thinks is unreasonable regimentation to attempts to have the law changed. It goes without saying that no attempt he will make will get more than a fraction of the attention of the altercation that landed him in court. Thousands of small farmers who could not afford to go through the legal mill in defense of a principle regarded him as a champion fighting in their behalf.

There isn't a ghost of a chance that wheat-growing allotments ever will be rigged or administered in favor of little growers like those in Ohio as long as the big growers in the Grain Belt run the show. There was a ghost of a chance, however, that Dr. Whiteleather might find a legal gimmick to protect little growers. It was worth the effort. But the law is the law. If the measurer gives proper notice, he can measure acreage until his measuring wheel runs out of grease, which it just might do some day.

Only Congress Can Make Federal Law

It becomes a puzzle sometimes whether critics of U.S. Supreme Court decisions described as invasions of the rights of Congress read the decisions.

The recent decision about passports is an illustration.

The Supreme Court held that no existing federal law authorized the secretary of state to deny passports because of "beliefs or associations" of the applicants. It invited Congress to spell out a legislative policy that would clarify the problem for the State Department.

Critics of the Supreme Court immediately accused it of being tender to Communists and to persons suspected of Communist sympathy. They apparently did not read the passage in the majority decision which said: "We are dealing here with citizens who have neither been accused of crimes nor found guilty. They are being denied their freedom of movement solely because of their refusal to be subjected to inquiry into their beliefs and associations. They do not seek to escape the law nor to violate it. They may or may not be Communists. But assuming they are, the only law which Congress has passed expressly curtailing the movement of Communists across our borders has not yet become effective."

Elsewhere, the majority decision said: "The right of exit is a personal right included within the word 'liberty' as used in the Fifth Amendment. If that 'liberty' is to be regulated, it must be pursuant to the law-making functions of the Congress."

In other words, the Supreme Court was inviting Congress to pass a law that would clear up passport procedure. Such a law had been proposed with State Department approval in 1956 and never passed by Congress. It now has been proposed again by Rep. Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania. Sen. Hennings of Missouri also intends to propose a law, which would make passport procedures more lenient, instead of more restrictive, thereby bringing the issue squarely before Congress.

It is not always an invasion of congressional rights when the Supreme Court calls attention to legislative cloudiness. Sometimes it is an appeal to Congress to get on the job and pass better laws so the Supreme Court can make better rulings and quit being a whipping boy for over-emotional critics.

If Taxation Ever Became Rational

In an unexpected outburst of common sense that chilled the blood of Senate leadership, senators have voted to throw out a 10 per cent tax on railroad passenger fare and slashed their new-found sanity by throwing out a 3 per cent tax on rail freight.

The reductions affect air, highway and water transportation, too, but railroads will be helped the most, because they are in the most need of help.

The passenger fare vote was 59-25, the freight vote 50-35.

If taxation ever became rational, decisions like these would be made up and down the line.

These taxes are examples of the misuse of taxation to bring about changes in practice. They are holdovers from wartime levies designed to discourage the use of railroad facilities which were going to be needed for government purposes.

But when the government's special need vanished, the taxes remained, continuing to discourage the use of railroad facilities in a period when railroads needed encouragement, not discouragement.

The taxes are the same in principle as all other taxes which penalize unduly the operation of tax-producing enterprise for the benefit of tax-spending projects—literal examples of killing the goose that lay the golden eggs.

In the case of railroads, for example, it makes morse sense in the upside-down thinking of spenders to authorize government-guaranteed loans for railroads in distress than to take the railroads out of distress by relieving them of taxation handicaps.

Everyone who makes recommendations for improving the tax-producing energy of private enterprise points to the folly of taxes that pile handicaps on enterprise. The rebuttal to recommendations for change is always the same—that the federal government is in such desperate need of revenue that it cannot afford to yield any. This was the rebuttal to the senators who claimed railroads should be relieved of wartime excise taxes — that the government needed the money.

A majority of senators, in an unexpected demonstration of reasonableness asserted that the government also needed the railroads which helped to produce the money.

"Is that fun?" asked Millicent.

"The way Daddy tears them up you would think so," said Mumsie.

"Ain't Daddy going to share the picnic with us?" asked Edgar.

"No. He's a late scratch," said mother.

Presently the old man came back. He looked disheveled and excited.

"How about a hard-boiled egg and a pickle?" asked Millicent, pointing to the picnic box.

"If they're in the daily double I've got 'em. I played every combination," said Pop nervously, going over his racing paper again.

"What's Daddy reading, fairy tales?" asked Millicent.

"You've hit the right name for it," laughed mother.

(It went on like that until the last race, if I had taken that hard-boiled egg and pickle, "Did you enjoy the picnic, Popper?" "I would go home on the train, the kids asked Pop, and not gone hunting for something to beat 'em!")

TOMMY BOLT, new U.S. Open Golf Champ, carries with him a card bearing the words: "God grant me the serenity to accept things I cannot change, the courage to change the things I can change and, above all, the wisdom to KNOW THE DIFFERENCE."

After a long lapse, Broadway producers are again opening shows in Atlantic City. There was a time when it was a favorite "try out" spot, not only handy to Gotham but an attractive and colorful community where, even if the show seemed bad, it didn't matter.

On June 23, New York City began to go after jaywalkers as if it meant it. Warnings will be given until Aug. 7, after which there will be fines. The best news is that the city will include autoists who do not give pedestrians an even break. "Failure of autoists to permit pedestrians to cross can no longer be tolerated," is the announcement. Wanna bet?

DADDY STARTED for the mutuels, saying he had a three-horse parlay. "Can we play a three-horse parlay, too?" asked Edgar. "No, but if you're real good Popper will let you tear up his tickets," promised mother.

'We Both Need Him'

Who's to Police the Policemen?

By JAMES MARLOW

Nothing is lonelier or more futile than a proposal that members of Congress pass a law to police themselves. Sen. Richard Neuberger (D-Ore) has offered a bill to do that. You can kiss it goodbye.

Yet members of Congress—particularly Republicans running for re-election—have been among the harshest critics of Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's No. 1 assistant, for doing favors for his gift-giving friend Bernard Goldfine.

Neuberger, who makes no apologies for Adams, has said: "The inconsistency between the rules which Congress with a great show of righteousness applies to executive officials and its failure to apply identical standards to its own members undoubtedly has reflected adversely on the reputation of Congress in the public mind." He suggests: "The doctor ought to have to swallow some of his own medicine."

His bill would compel members of Congress and high government officials once a year to file a report on the sources and amount of each item of income or gifts—including speaking or writing fees—and expenditures that exceed $100, and a statement of assets and liabilities and dealings in securities or commodities during the previous year.

Neuberger is just the latest of a number of liberal senators, who, over recent years, have suggested that Congress set up by law some ethical standards covering conduct of its own members.

Earlier this year, while Congress was poking around the activities of members of the Federal Communications Commission, Neuberger wrote in the New York Times: "If federal commissioners are to be pilloried for accepting hacienda suites at Palm Springs or airplane tickets to Palm Beach, how can senators and representatives continue profitable associations with law firms retained by banks, railroads, labor unions and utility companies?"

He's said more this month, both before and after the disclosures about Adams: "Under existing law no official or employee of the executive agencies can leave his public post and press any pending private matter before his old bureau or department before two years have elapsed."

"However, no such restraint applies to members of Congress who quit the House or Senate. They can act as lobbyists or representatives for private interests immediately, even on questions or issues pending before committees on which they recently served."

Neuberger said further: "Committees of Congress require Cabinet appointees of the President to divest themselves of stock holdings in corporations that have business dealings with these appointees will administer."

"Yet members of the Senate and House can own shares or partnerships in businesses that are directly affected by legislation which these senators or representatives are drafting or voting upon."

Members of Congress, to get more money for their expenses, make speeches for perhaps as much as $1,000 a talk before groups virtually interested in legislation pending before Congress.

Members of Congress get elected with the help of campaign funds fattened by contributions from labor unions, distilleries, sawmills, gas and oil corporations, power companies, airlines and mines, all with interest in legislation before Congress.

Throughout all his arguments Neuberger keeps raising the question: "Who is going to police the policeman?" The answer—based on what Congress has done to all previous suggestions like Neuberger's—is: no one.

World in Ferment

People Seem to Be Unaware of Critical Period

A turbulent era to be living in—and yet people generally do not seem to be aware of the critical consequences that could ensue at any moment. The world panorama today looks like this:

Blood is flowing in Lebanon. Events there could involve the sudden use of American troops to protect American lives unless the United Nations can enforce peace. Nasser of Egypt keeps feeding ammunition to the Lebanese rebels.

Tension in the relations between the Western countries and the Soviet Union is increasing.

Friction is growing behind the iron curtain as Khrushchev, through his controlled press, keeps up a fiery criticism of Tito of Yugoslavia.

Tito in public speeches compares aid that he gets from America without strings to Soviet aid originally promised him and now withdrawn because he will not toe the Moscow line.

The Soviet government orders demonstrations against the American Embassy in Moscow.

The Soviet government instructs the East German government not to release nine American servicemen who on June 8 landed their helicopter in the Soviet military zone during a storm that took them off their course.

The Soviet government first promises to participate in a conference of technicians at Geneva who were supposed to explore ways of bringing about an international pact for the suspension of nuclear tests but then backs out, insisting an agreement must first be reached to stop testing.

Talk of a "summit" conference is receding.

THERE'S LESS and less thrust between the Soviet government and the Western governments.

For the sake of appearances and to appease public sentiment, the spokesmen of the West continue to say they want to keep on talking and conferring and negotiating some kind of understanding or agreement between the East and the West. But there seems now to be less and less likelihood of reaching such a result.

The Soviets are encountering "propaganda disasters" — as Assistant Secretary of State Andrew Berding calls them — instead of "propaganda victories."

Ever since the execution of former Premier Imre Nagy of Hungary was announced on June 17, the whole world has been showing its disapproval and the Moscow regime knows that the tide is turning. Moscow's propaganda is diminishing in its effectiveness.

Are the men in the Kremlin, in view of all these adverse happenings, therefore trying desperately to consolidate their own position?

Their efforts to arrange a "summit" conference and to urge the doctrine of "peaceful co-existence" were due largely to a relief that this would help build up their prestige as "statesmen" inside the Soviet Union and placate a growing unrest there.

MOSCOW IS changing from peaceful to threatening words. An external crisis has sometimes been provoked in history by reckless men to bring about internal solidarity.

There is more and more evidence today that Khrushchev is in trouble with the other leaders and that he has adopted a stern course in the belief it will terrify his internal as well as his external adversaries.

These are ticklish moments for a president of the United States. He must bear the burden of decision, each hour of the day.

The Lebanon crisis gets some attention from the press but not as much as it seems to deserve.

Movements of the American Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean and the buildup of British armed forces on Cyprus have not been kept secret. There is talk of a Soviet fleet coming into the Mediterranean, too. This is what a president worries about.

It's a time in which a small episode can produce bigger complications overnight.

IN THE MIDST of this atmosphere of international crisis, Washington is nevertheless agog over a congressional investigation which appears to be a contest in mudslinging. It seems to have given opportunities to disappointed seekers of influence to carry on in public their backbiting over personal grievances. What an orgy of pettiness!

Some day the historians will doubtless perceive the disproportionate attention being given to these passing incidents.

Some day perhaps the effort of the government of the United States to do its duty in accord with the nobles of American traditions will be seen in its true light and will be given just acclaim.

For American Foreign policy, despite its setbacks, seeks today only to uphold ideals of unselfishness in a troubled world and to aid in preventing a deadly war that could come suddenly to peoples everywhere.

Indeed war is a constant danger as long as irresponsible rulers hold power in the Soviet Union and are heedless of warnings.

There is, of course, also the danger to those rulers themselves that, at the first sign of international war, an opportunity for internal war can present itself. These are truly turbulent times.

July Is Tricky Month

By SAM DAWSON

You can't tell the business players in July without a scorecard. If you accept the news on face value you could run up a lot of errors.

It's a tricky month as far as the statistics go. This year there are some added confusions.

Persons anxious to believe the recession is over and recovery underway and those fearful that the more cheerful news of late is a flash in the pan signifying little could be fooled by July.

Here are some of the things likely to happen that the wary should take as cause neither for panic nor over evaluation:

The rise in steel production is one of the chief factors cited by those thinking the recession is sliding again and the weekly figures in July may seem sad.

The growing custom of plant shutdowns for vacations in industries using steel may be more widespread and last longer this year than usual. The burst of steel orders for June delivery to beat any price rise may have borrowed quite a bit of what would have been normal July ordering.

So a cutback in steel output in July, even if more than usual, shouldn't lead you to the conclusion that the general economy is turning down again. Watch August and September orders before making up your mind.

In the allied metals of copper, zinc, lead and aluminum, price and output confusion could last well into July. Politics adds much of the uncertainty as various proposals to aid the industries are kicked around in Congress.

But there is also a labor factor. Aluminum wages go up automatically August 1, just as steel's do Tuesday. And copper and steel users will be taking plant vacations, so July statistics on orders may give little clue to the fall outlook.

Textiles will look bad for several weeks as mills close for various vacation periods. Some are taking extended ones this year. The hope is that inventories will be corrected and the industry ready for an advance — you'll know later in the year.

The industrial output index, which took a comforting rise as a result of the flurry in steel, may be off more than usual this July. Earlier changeover to auto factories along with slack production of 1958 models while dealers wrestle with stocks could make the index drop more than usual in July.

Also, this would be reflecting past troubles more than it would be forecasting fall events.

In a few days you will get the government's figures on unemployment in June. If the figures jump from May, remember that added to the unpleasant total of those now jobless will be the newly graduated and other students looking for work.

Personal income figures, on the other hand, are due to rise. That doesn't mean that yours will necessarily, or that most folk will be better off. It means that some workers are getting automatic wage scale boosts. But most of the jump will come from the 10 per cent rise for government employees, with a sizable sum of retroactive pay being handed out.

July figures, in other words, may seem to mean more or less than they really do, unless you read them calmly with the background in mind.

Guarding Your Health

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN

Questions and Answers

Today's first question offers a good reason why diseases should not be named after a person. Q — Please say something about Paget's disease. A — There are two Paget's diseases which are totally unrelated. One is an inflammatory cancerous condition involving the area of the nipple. The other is a bone disorder, better called osteitis deformans. The treatment for the first is usually surgical. The second, or osteitis deformans, is a chronic disease involving the skeleton of grownups and characterized by changes both in the long bones, such as those in the leg, and the flat bones, such as those in the skull. The cause is poorly understood, though the possibility that it is related to the circulation has been suggested. The symptoms vary from person to person, and in itself. More commonly a cause cannot be identified. Local applications which suit the individual skin and attempts to prevent excessive drying (such as too frequent bathing or the frequent use of soaps) are advisable. Q — Would you say something about labyrinthitis. A — The labyrinth lies in the inner ear. Labyrinthitis means inflammation of this area. There are probably several forms of labyrinthitis which require different kinds of treatment. Sometimes the word is used for Meniere's disease. Q — I know a man who was in a state hospital because he was a dope addict. He said he was cured, but I found out that he takes several bottles of a cough medicine with codeine in it every day which he obtains by going from one drugstore to another. This costs him from $15 to $21 a week. Do you think this is still a sign of the dope habit? A — The preparation in question contains a little under one grain of codeine (a narcotic drug) for each ounce of cough medicine. Assuming that the bottles he buys are four-ounce bottles, if he takes three a day, he will be taking almost 10 grains of codeine. It would certainly seem that this man was still suffering from the drug habit.

The Double Four Club was entertained by Mrs. Clarence Wooley at her summer home at Seaville Lake Wednesday evening. Prizes in the games were awarded to Mrs. Neil Kegelmeyer and Mrs. Robert Knodler. Grand slam prizes were won by Mrs. Kegelmeyer and Mrs. Jack Woods. Mrs. Harold Wulf was a guest. A wiener roast was a feature. Mrs. Wilbur Knight will receive the group at the next meeting July 16. The Damascus Ruritan Club will be served a dinner at the Methodist Church by the church members at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. A business session will follow. Mrs. V. K. Ramsey of Alliance called on Mrs. C. E. Stanley Wednesday.

FIREBEE TO CANADA—The first foreign nation to use Firebee jet drones will be Canada, where Royal Canadian Air Force will use Lancaster bombers to air-launch the "flying bull's-eyes" to evaluate weapons systems. The KDA-1 type Firebee (outlined) being acquired by the RCAF is powered by a 1,000-pound-thrust turbojet engine. It has a built-in flotation system to make it fully recoverable from the water after it is parachuted to earth on completion of each target mission. Hundreds of the Firebees, developed by Ryan Aeronautical, are now being used by the U.S. Army and Navy to test the accuracy and efficiency of America's air-to-air and ground-to-air missile systems.

Camp Twin Spruce Will Open Sunday

Camp Twin Spruce, the Leesville Lake Camp of Columbiana council, Boy Scouts of America, will open Sunday, with 97 boys attending the first week, according to Scout Executive Robert F. Beck.

A record 465 boys are registered for camp sessions this summer at Twin Spruce, with 120 boys listed for the second week; 120 the third week and 128 the fourth week. Only 108 scouts registered last year, Mr. Beck said.

There are 25 persons on the camp staff this year. A central feeding system will be used for the first time this year.

The camp staff moved in last Monday, Mr. Beck said.

Fox

group appeared to be in disagreement over whether to question Fox in secret when Fox returns to the witness stand Monday.

Friday Fox, who published the now-defunct Boston Post, quoted Goldfine as having told him that Goldfine had bought a Washington house for Adams and had given checks to Adams regularly before Adams came here with Eisenhower in 1953.

"Falsehoods," replied Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty on both counts.

Hagerty said Adams has rented two houses he has lived in since coming to Washington and that Goldfine never sent any checks to Adams.

NBC commentator David Brinkley said Friday night a title search showed the house now occupied by Adams has been owned by Mrs. Dorothy B. Kerr since 1924.

Late Friday Adams blasted as "another malicious falsehood" a statement by Fox that Goldfine once said in the presence of Adams and Fox that Adams "is going to take care of" some troubles Goldfine was having with the Federal Trade Commission.

"I deny it ever happened," Adams said in a statement. Subcommittee Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) halted Fox right after the controversial witness got in his statements about the House and the checks. But Harris left it open as to whether he would finally agree to hear Fox Monday in closed session, in line with repeated requests from Goldfine attorneys.

ment Loan Fund instead of the 625 million Eisenhower asked. It cut his 1.8 billion dollar request for direct military aid to $1,515,000,000 and reduced defense support allowances from 835 to 700 million.

Mansfield said that "if the House does vote to cut that (Development Loan) fund, then I think there will be a strong movement in the Senate not only to restore it to the level the President asked but to increase it."

The fund is designed to aid underdeveloped countries. Mansfield said support for it has grown because of Soviet attempts to infiltrate these areas through economic assistance.

Drowsy from the tranquilizer shots, Cyril was captured in a boat house on Sandusky Bay Friday by Skelton and Dan Danford, the zoo's curator of mammals. Danford slipped a noose over Cyril's head, and the wandering sea lion added his most recent mileage in the back of a station wagon.

Ohio Legislature

to the Senate was Forest G. Ketter, Ohio State University trustee. He squeezed through on an 18-0 vote. He needed 18 votes for confirmation.

Another confirmation continued Carl G. Smith of Kenton as the Democratic member of the State Civil Service Commission. The vote was 21-0.

The special session of the Legislature accomplished these other things.

It approved a 13-week extension in the present 26 weeks of eligibility of jobless workers for unemployment compensation.

It appropriated an extra six million dollars for poor relief to enable the state to continue matching local relief spending dollar for dollar.

It corrected a defect in a law governing the spending of 10 million dollars in state funds for classroom construction in needy districts.

It corrected a typographical error in the form of a constitutional amendment which will appear on November's ballot permitting the formation of metropolitan federations.

It extended from 25 to 40 years the permissible period for which general obligation bonds may be issued for municipal sewer lines.

In the most part, Republican Gov. O'Neill got everything he asked of the GOP-dominated Legislature.

The anti-billboard bill, heavily promoted by one group of newspapers, drew the most fire and caused the most trouble.

In its final form, it prohibits billboards within 660 feet of relocated sections of the interstate highway systems. One-time fines of $100 to $1,000 are provided for violations. Violations must be reported by the state highway director to the common pleas court in the county in which the violation occurs for action.

The Senate delivered a farewell salute to its minority leader, Sen.

Joseph W. Bartunek, Cleveland Democrat.

After a series of speeches by Republicans and Democrats alike, the upper chamber of the Legislature adopted by unanimous rising vote a resolution saluting Bartunek's service to the Legislature and the people of Ohio in his 10-year tenure in the Senate.

The resolution was sponsored by Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens) and Sen. Steven Olenick (D-Mahoning). Bartunek passed up a Senate candidacy in an unsuccessful attempt for nomination as a Cuyahoga County commissioner.

Jobless Pay

reflects workers who have exhausted their eligibility for further jobless benefits. An undetermined number in this category still are unemployed and are not reflected in the figures.

The department said insured unemployment still is more than double the total of 1,268,700 for the same week last year.

Another 1958 low also was reported in initial claims for jobless benefits, a barometer of new layoffs among insured workers. The department said for the week ended June 21, new claims dropped by 13,800 to a total of 318,500 — the lowest number for any week since mid-November of last year. For the corresponding week a year ago new claims totaled 202,600.

Congress recently appropriated $666,700,000 for the emergency program of supplemental jobless benefits.

The Labor Department announced earlier this week 12 states have signed up under the program so far and that four others have adopted equivalent programs at their own expense.

The eight states that will receive the allocations announced today are Delaware, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Maryland, Alabama and California.

Lebanon

the battle. It was the third straight day of heavy fighting around Tripoli.

An army communique reported the attacks were put down Friday with the help of jet planes, artillery and armored cars — one of the army's biggest shows of strength during the seven-week rebellion.

Heavy fighting broke out in the morning and again in the afternoon in the capital's Basta Moslem quarter. Armored cars wiped out a rebel street barricade to claim one victory.

At Rasheya in southern Lebanon, the communique said, an attack on the army garrison was driven off in a sharp exchange of gunfire. Another attack at the north Lebanese port of Tripoli was stopped, the army said, after rebels advanced within 50 yards of army positions.

The communique also claimed that government troops, outnumbered 5-1, turned back a heavy rebel assault on Mt. Tereol in the north with aerial and artillery support.

The rebels claim control of three-quarters of this Middle Eastern republic, which is smaller than Connecticut, and say they will keep fighting until Chamoun quits. The president, whose term expires in mid-September, has conceded the rebels dominate at least one-quarter of Lebanon.

Chamoun has accused President Nasser's United Arab Republic of sending in arms and men to aid the rebels. A U.N. observer team established to investigate the charges said Thursday it had found some aid coming in from the U.A.R.'s neighboring Syrian province.

Terms of the youth's probation had been: 60-days suspension of his driver's license, be home at night by 11 o'clock, and cease associating with another youth. He was sentenced by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin.

'I'm Out to Win All-Star Tilt,' States Haney

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves, who will guide the National League team in the All-Star game at Baltimore July 8, says "never mind the window dressing, I'm out to win."

"If I have to use all eight pitchers, I won't hesitate to send them in," Haney told a news conference before Friday night's game with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"If we can go out in front, then the starting lineup will stay in there until we win it."

Haney revealed the names of eight pitchers he will select but requested sportswriters not to use them until they are announced by the commissioner's office tonight. He said he had selected two National League managers to assist him and identified them only as "one who has never been in an All-Star game before" and "one who has not been in one for four years."

Tuesday night Haney told The Associated Press he would be guided by the first and second choices of players, coaches and managers voting in the poll for all positions except pitchers. He also said at that time that he would use all three catchers named to the team.

Under rules enforced for the first time this year, managers, coaches and players voted for players from any team in their league except their own.

Richard Besst Victor in 18th Ohio Seniors Golf Tournament

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Richard Besst of New Philadelphia won the 18th Ohio Seniors Golf Tournament Friday, edging nine-time champion Allen Rankin of Columbus on the final nine holes of the 36-hole play.

Besst, a 57-year-old manufacturing plant manager, was tied with Rankin, 64, a building and loan company executive, at the end of Thursday's opening round. Both had 73s. At the end of the first nine holes Friday the pair was still deadlocked—both carding 37s—but Rankin had a pair of three-putt greens and dropped to a 40 coming in.

He finished with a 36-hole total of 150. Besst posted a 143 over Scioto Country Club's 6,662-yard, par 36-36-72 course, where the event is held annually.

Rankin had previously won the Seniors title in 1945-46-47-49-50-51-52-54 and 1956. The only other multiple winner in the history of the tourney is Joe Wells of Steubenville, who turned the trick in 1940 and 1942.

Don Gill of Cincinnati, the defending champion, wound up a distant third with 80-77-157.

D. W. Hill of Cincinnati finished fourth with a pair of 80s for 160, a stroke ahead of P. O. Cooper of Akron, who had 80-81-161, and John Roberts of Columbus, with 85-76-161.

Another former titleholder in the tournament this year is John Valuska of Steubenville, who won the crown in 1955. He finished with a 163 on rounds of 81 and 82. Freeman Eagleson of Columbus, one of three 81-year-old golfers in the tourney, and 77-year-old Dr. H. G. Smith of Cadiz tied with 187s for the 75-and-over-age bracket honors. Walter Cope, the 1953 champion from Lima, carded a 166 to top the 70-74 age group. Howard F. Cordes led the 65-69 bracket with a 168.

Boston Downed By Detroit 7-4

New York Clobbers Kansas City 10 to 3

By The Associated Press
On June 5, 1950, Billy Johnson of the New York Yankees hit a fifth-inning single. On April 16, 1953, Bobby Young of the St. Louis Browns doubled with two out in the seventh. Friday night, Ed Fitz Gerald of the Washington Senators lined a pinch double with two out in the ninth.

Three isolated hits stretched over eight years—yet each was all that stood between southpaw Billy Pierce and a no-hitter. And Fitz Gerald's was the toughest crusher yet, punctuating a perfect pitching performance by the Chicago White Sox veteran after 8 2-3 innings.

But Billy, back on the beam after a terrible start this season, then turned his back on Fitz Gerald at second and struck out Albie Pearson, nailing a 3-0 one hit victory over the Senators for his third consecutive shutout and seventh by the White Sox in 12 games.

While Pierce was working on what looked like the first regular season perfect game since Charley Robertson of the White Sox did it against Detroit in 1922, the New York Yankees were drubbing second place Kansas City 10-3 and padding their American League lead to 8½ games again. Detroit broke a third place tie with Boston by beating the Red Sox 7-4, and Cleveland gave new manager Joe Gordon a 7-4 victory over Baltimore.

In the National League, Los Angeles whipped Milwaukee 3-1, but the Braves retained a 1½ game lead as Philadelphia stopped second place St. Louis 5-4 in 11 innings and Cincinnati beat third place San Francisco 6-5. The Chicago Cubs defeated Pittsburgh 3-1.

Ray Herbert, now 3-3, was the loser for the A's. Art Ditmar (2-0) won in relief.

The Red Sox' Jensen hit a two-run homer, his 20th, to regain the AL lead. Bill Fischer (3-3) was the winner for the Tigers.

Don Mossi (5-6) won in relief for the Indians. Billy O'Dell was the loser for an 8-8 record.

'Thumbs Down' on Boat Show-Offs, Chief Suggests

With the 4th of July weekend coming up, Chief of Police George T. Earley today urged use of a timely new signal and slogan to save lives over the long weekend—and all summer.

"Many of our citizens will be among the 30 millions of Americans of all ages who enjoy the sport of boating. It is one of the safest forms of recreation, yet just as motorizing has its irresponsible 'hot rod jockeys' and 'drag-race show-offs,' so does boating have a few smart alecks who imperil the safety of themselves and others," he declared.

Chief Earley added that "out of a desire to curb the exhibitionistic behavior of this reckless minority has sprung a new idea—'Thumbs Down Means Don't Clown!' The objective is simply to discourage dangerous antics by giving the familiar 'thumbs down' gesture to the offender."

Public safety authorities suggest that whenever a person is seen making a pest of himself by clownish behavior in or around a boat, or for that matter in an auto on the highway, annoyed or endangered bystanders can give the unmistakable "thumbs down" sign—universally recognized signal of disapproval.

When the "goof-off" offender sees enough people make this sign, he'll know he's doing something he shouldn't do, even if he can't hear above the roar of a motor. He'll know that others know it too. If, in common with the vast majority, he's a fair sportsman, psychologists say he will stop his foolishness and act like a gentleman.

Also, when towing a boat, don't forget to have proper lights on the trailer and drive extra carefully, advises Chief Earley.

George Washington received 5,000 acres of Kentucky land when he sold his race horse Magnolia.

Braves Defeated By Dodgers 3 to 1

By The Associated Press
It looks as though this is the year the Los Angeles Dodgers pocket the payoff on that $20,000 bonus southpaw Sandy Koufax collected in 1954. Sandy's been right handy of late, winning three and saving another in a six-day span while the last place Dodgers have won six of seven in a come-alive drive that has produced their first four-game winning streak of the season.

Pinch Batter Ruins Pierce's Perfect Tilt

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO (AP)—"I'll never get any closer," smiled Billy Pierce after pitching 8 2-3 innings of perfect baseball only to have his bid for immortality ruined by pinch batter Ed Fitz Gerald's double.

With the Chicago White Sox leading Washington, 3-0, and two out in the ninth, Fitz Gerald was summoned to bat for pitcher Russ Kemmerer. He swung at Pierce's first offering and sent a clean shot down the right field line for a double.

A crowd of 11,300 — cheering Pierce's every motion from the seventh inning on — sat back stunned even after Pierce struck out Albie Pearson to end the game. Their boos for Fitz Gerald turned into cheers for Pierce only when the 31-year-old left-hander reached the Sox dugout.

Pierce, a 20-game winner the last two seasons, now has pitched shutouts in his last three starts to run his career total to 29.

"I was a curve ball and he hit it," said Pierce. "He was loose and swinging and there's nothing that can be done about it. It was almost as good a hit as the one I got in the third inning."

Pierce opened the third with a double to left and rode home on Jim Landis' single for the only run he needed. The Sox added another pair on Sherm Lollar's two-run single in the eighth and the tension mounted as Pierce began warming up in the ninth.

Ken Aspromonte led off the ninth and bounced what appeared to be a hit through the box only to have shortstop Luis Aparicio make his second brilliant stop of the night and throw Aspromonte out.

Catcher Steve Korchek stepped up, took a strike, swing and missed on the next pitch, fouled one off and finally struck out. Fitz Gerald came up and ruined Pierce's attempt to be the first pitcher to hurl a perfect regular season game in 36 years.

The last regular perfect game was by Charley Robertson of the White Sox against Detroit in 1922. Don Larsen of the New York Yankees accomplished the feat in the 1956 World Series against Brooklyn.

Four Hot Stove Contests Played

Bloomer's defeated Merchants 12-0, Bricker & Bricker beat National Drycleaners 13-3, Grodon Scott's edged Eagles 10-9, and Jaycees defeated Endres-Gross 4-1 in four Hot Stove games Friday.

Bloomer's scored its runs in the first and second innings. Maxwell was the only player to get a hit for the losers.

Bricker & Bricker coasted to an easy win behind the four-hit pitching of John Wagner.

Gary Cosgrove had a homer and a triple and drove in five runs for the winners. Jay Detell had a perfect day for the victors with two singles and two walks.

Gordon Scott's came from behind to defeat Eagles.

Hilton Moffett was the winning pitcher.

Chip Mosher had a double for Gordon Scott's, and Rusty Hackett hit two singles, driving in three runs for the winners.

Gregg had a single, triple and a walk for the Eagles. He drove in four runs.

AL All-Star Team Has Approval of Stengel

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The American League All-Star team chosen by players, coaches and managers has the full approval of Casey Stengel, who will manage the squad in the July 8 classic at Baltimore.

"I would say," the New York Yankee skipper remarked, "that they done a very good job in picking the team. In fact, it seems to me they done about the best job of anybody."

"Take Nellie Fox, for example. He won out over my man, Gil McDougald, and some people say the reason they didn't pick Gil is because I use him at more positions than one. But I also know that that little Fox is a tough guy on their ball club."

Stengel indicated he would increase left-handed power at the plate by adding Ted Williams, Mickey Vernon and Yogi Berra to the squad.

Mickey Mantle, a switchhitter, and Fox are the only lefty swingers in the starting lineup.

Indians Drub Orioles 6 to 5

Gordon Hopes to Have Set Lineup in Week

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joe Gordon, new manager of the Cleveland Indians who says he doesn't go in for platooning, hopes to have a set lineup for the Tribe in a week or so.

"It will take a while because I want to get a good look at all the players," he said Friday night prior to the Indians' 6-5 victory over Baltimore in his debut as manager.

The former Cleveland second baseman, who replaced Bobby Bragan as pilot of the Tribe Thursday night, said: "I'm usually a pretty easy going guy but you know I can get rough on occasion," in describing the managerial tactics that brought San Francisco a Pacific Coast League pennant last season.

Bragan visited the dressing room to bid the players farewell, but didn't stay for the game. He leaves today for his home in Fort Worth, Tex., and plans to weigh job offers while en route there.

He said he had received two offers to manage in the high minors and that he probably would take one of them.

In Friday night's game Rocky Colavito drove in three runs with his 12th homer of the season and two doubles and Bob Avila hit his third home run of the year with a man on base as the Indians won the opener of their four-game series with Baltimore.

The Orioles scored a run in the second inning on a double play with no outs and the bases loaded, but the Indians went ahead with four runs in the third. Avila homered after Ray Narleski singled and Colavito smashed a home run with Vic Power on third via a triple.

Baltimore added another run in the fourth when Gus Triandos led off with his 16th homer of the year and then took the lead again in the fifth with a three-run rally that brought Don Mossi to the mound in relief of Narleski.

Johnny Busso Scores Win Over Ortiz

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP)—"Champion of the East Side tonight, champion of the world tomorrow," Johnny Busso was the self-proclaimed "champion" Friday night in his dressing room at Madison Square Garden after he had taken a split decision over previously-unbeaten Carlos Ortiz in 10 sizzling rounds.

Busso lives in Astoria in the Queens area of New York now but he used to live on the East Side on 20th Street. Ortiz, Puerto Rico-born and now a resident of the Bronx, used to live on the East Side on 28th Street. Ortiz hadn't lost in 27 previous pro fights.

Busso thought he won Friday night. So did two of the three officials but there were boos at the decision. A ringside poll of boxing writers found six voting for Ortiz, three for Busso and four calling it a draw.

Referee Barney Felix and Judge Bill Recht called it 5-4-1 in favor of Busso. Judge Artie Schwartz had it 6-4 for Ortiz. The AP card was 6-4 for Busso.

Ortiz was the 9 to 5 favorite. He has won 26 of 27 previous fights. The other bout ended in a "no decision" contest. Busso's record now is 34-6-1.
